

An Italian soloist and chamber musician recognized among the most distinguished of his generation, Alex Sebastianutto weaves the rigor of classical tradition, the drive of contemporary music, and the freedom of improvisation into an ever-evolving musical language.

This remarkable versatility makes him a focal point for international composers, who write and dedicate numerous works to him, and has brought him to prestigious stages across Europe, the United States, the Middle East, and Asia.

His stylistic signature remains a vivid, boundless exploration where interpretative rigor blends with spontaneous gesture to give voice to an authentically contemporary musicality.
